

BRANDNature™ branding / messaging system

The biggest challenge in marketing?

Knowing who you are.
So you can be it.

Every business, product, and service has a unique way of doing things. But many aren't all that good at getting full credit for it. Just pick any powerhouse brand, like Coca Cola. All they do is bottle sweet, brown & bubbly water. Or Nike. They just make shoes. And Apple—the computers they produce are no better than their Windows-based equivalents, right?

Wrong.

Each of these sector-dominating brands understands something about themselves that's much bigger than the consistent use of logo and color. That an effective brand fuels everything across their enterprises. It powers innovation, customer satisfaction, and to put it bluntly, profit margins.

And the best part is that a true brand is unassailable, because it's the very embodiment of you.

COLLABORATOR creative's BRANDNature™ system does what most people, businesses and products have real trouble doing for themselves: creating a message, theming & personality platform for a truly timeless brand. Using a series of techniques from D.P. Knudten's NonFiction Branding™ toolbox, the BRANDNature system consists of three distinct phases.

The goal: creating a high-octane brand that is uniquely yours, because it's entirely founded on your true nature.

PLUS IT UP.

Phase I BRANDMagnify™

The first step to “knowing who you are, so you can be it” is to ask as many stakeholders as possible (both inside your business and out) for their opinions. Why? To kill them—the opinions, that is. The goal is to uncover the commonly understood ‘true nature’ of that business, product or service, and to build from there.

Phase II BRANDPurify™

This phase sifts through the bulk download of information revealed during the BRANDMagnify phase, and creates a written document that features ‘must have’ marketing message platform elements including (but not limited to):

- Positioning Statement
- Brand Foundation (Vision, Core Values, Brand Promise)
- Target Audiences
- Core Attributes
- Product Personality
- Primary Marketing Message
- Perfect Prospect Personified (P3™)
- Key Branding Insights & Opportunities
- Product Brand Voice / Copy Style

Phase III BRANDCodify™

The final phase of the BRANDNature system puts all the hard-won words into pretty little pictures suitable for framing. And I’m not kidding here. The value of an idea or brand is only as good as its packaging. The BRANDCodify phase packages all the above up into a document suite that can be used throughout your enterprise for everything from employee on-boarding to new business prospecting.

“D.P. was instrumental in helping Farwell transition away from ‘startup mode.’ Since completing the BRANDNature™ process, we now have a brand that is clear, succinct and most importantly, energizing.”

Meet the COLLABORATOR

I’m D.P. Knudten, the Chief Collaborator at COLLABORATOR creative, an over 20-year veteran in the fields of advertising and marketing. A copywriter by background, I cut my branding teeth in the trenches at McCann Erickson / Atlanta working on a variety of work for Coca Cola. You will never see me drink a Pepsi product, ever. From there, I’ve worked on a wide array of brands from the prosaic (Georgia Pacific forest products) to the poetic (HelpHOPELive), and the no-nonsense B2B (Honeywell) to the wet & wild B2C (Great Wolf Resorts).

Over the years, I developed the BRANDNature™ system by combining and refining the branding best practices I experienced at McCann, DDB Needham (Chicago), and several other regional agencies, while adding a little of my own proprietary spice along the way. As of this writing, I’ve performed this system for over 25 companies or products throughout the United States.
